To Discard Freckles, Tan, Pimples, Wrinkles

It is said that creases containing animal grease cause hair to grow. You run no risk of acquiring superfluous hair from using ordinary mercurial wax. There is nothing better for a discolored skin, as the wax actually absorbs the offensive outside. The latter is naturally replaced by a clear, smooth, healthy complexion, full of life and expression. It's the sensible way to discard a freckled, tanned, over-red, blotchy or pimply skin. Get an ounce of mercurial wax at any drug-gist and apply nightly like cold cream, erasing in the morning with soap and water. Soon you will observe a most remarkable transformation.

The ideal wrinkle remover is made by dissolving an ounce of pure powdered exfolite in a half pint of witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution brings almost immediate results.

HUSBAND KILLS HIMSELF AFTER SHOOTING WIFE

16-Year-Old Baltimore Mother Will Recover—Man Expected to Die.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 14.—After shooting his wife, Mrs. Esther Lippy, sixteen years old, through the head yesterday afternoon, Norman H. Lippy, twenty-two years old, shot himself through the temple and died an hour later in the Maryland General Hospital.

The shooting, which is said to have been the result of domestic difficulties, occurred about 3 o'clock in the kitchen of the home of Mrs. Lippy's parents, 8441 Ash street, Woodberry. Lippy and his wife were separated last Friday after a quarrel that, it is said, caused Mrs. Lippy to swear out a warrant for her husband's arrest.

Yesterday afternoon Lippy appeared at the house and demanded that his wife withdraw the warrant, promising to take an oath of good behavior if she would accede. Mrs. Lippy, according to her mother, refused on the grounds that she felt that he would not keep his pledge, and a quarrel ensued. He became so threatening that his wife, who was holding the baby in her arms, told him that she would call the police. Just as she arose from placing the baby in its cradle, preparatory to going for help, Lippy fired. The bullet struck Mrs. Lippy, who was then facing him across the kitchen table, in the ear. Lippy then turned the pistol upon himself and fired. Afterwards he ran from the house and up the street a distance of almost half a block before he fell, brandishing the pistol toward his head as he went.

Both were taken to the Maryland General Hospital, where Lippy died and where Mrs. Lippy is expected to recover.

ALLEGED MASTERPIECE PAINTING CALLED FAKE

MADRID, Sept. 14.—Father Nemesio Sancho, curate of the parish of Esquil Vias, near Toledo, declared today that the recent announcement of the discovery of an original portrait of Cervantes at Esquil Vias was a fabrication.

He disavowed the connection of his name with the original telegram announcing the discovery of the alleged portrait.

DEATH SCOURGE KILLS BABIES IN VOLGA DISTRICT

Mortality Terrible, Food Scarce, Clothing Insufficient, Says Woman Relief Worker.

MOSCOW, Sept. 12 (via London, Sept. 14).—A scourge of death, more terrible than the sword of Herod in Bible times, is sweeping off the babyhood of Orenburg, in the south-eastern corner of Russia.

"The infant mortality in Orenburg is terrible," said a woman official, who is chief of the motherhood and infants' division of the Orenburg local government.

"There is a shortage of milk and fats and other nourishing food, as well as clothing. I came to Moscow to secure cloth for underwear. The government gave me cotton, but had no woolen stuff, and I am afraid the cotton clothing will not keep the babies warm for cold weather is already setting in."

(Orenburg lies in the southern ranges of the Ural mountains, just east of Samara, the seat of Russian finance.)

Although the Soviet government is hampered by lack of railway locomotives, cars and other equipment, it is sending such trains as it can into the stricken districts.

Some excellent rolling stock was captured by the Red army in the war against General Wrangel. A finely equipped hospital train has just arrived here from Odessa, bringing 805 sick persons. It had been furnished to Wrangel's army by the allies.

AERIAL FOREST PATROL IS TO BE DISCONTINUED

Lack of Funds Causes Weeks to Order Disbanding of Valuable Unit.

The Secretary of War, because of lack of funds, has announced that the Aerial Forest Patrol will be discontinued at the close of the present season.

The Aerial Forest Patrol was established in 1919. In 1920 twenty-nine planes were lent by the army to the Forestry Service for duty in the Pacific Coast States. These few planes, the operating of which was regarded by air service officers as part of the necessary expense of keeping units in training, for two and half months in 1920 saved from destruction by fire an estimated timber valued in excess of $5,000,000, or considerably more than the entire appropriation that year for the air defenses of the United States.

The work of the Aerial Forest Patrol has been one of the most distinctively constructive achievements growing out of the post-war adaptation of aircraft to peace-time use, according to the Aerial Forest Patrol for 1921. In 1920 the twenty-nine planes in the service patrolled more than 6,250,000 square miles on national and private forests on the Pacific Coast. They discovered and accurately located between 800 and 1,000 fires, and through this remarkable performance attracted the attention of conservationists in all parts of the country and led the Canadian government and timber corporations to create the foundation for similar services.

The Department of Agriculture, which has no specific appropriation covering the aerial patrol reports that the entire forest area in the United States covers 463,000,000 acres and that this region is being burned over at the rate of 10,000,000 acres yearly. Reforestation requires a minimum of twenty years.

RISES TO STOP ALARM CLOCK AND EXPIRES

MANTUA, N. J., Sept. 14.—When his alarm clock began to clatter at 5:30 o'clock yesterday Charlton Hendrickson, sixty years old, arose, silenced it and returned to bed and immediately expired.

A physician ascribed his death to heart failure. Apparently Hendrickson had been in his usual good health.

He was prominent in local and township affairs, a former member of the board of education, a member of the Republican executive committee and an ardent worker.

PARIS, France.

COMBINING lace with velvet is only one of the delightful oddities of fur with crepe. For formal daytime wear a long-sleeved loosely blouse of brown velvet, at the left, takes unto itself the fullest and longest of skirts of beige lace worn over a skirt less full and less long of the velvet. And over both, most unexpectedly, falls a short-peaked plume of beige crepe. Black circled ostrich feathers across a wide-brimmed hat of beige velvet accompany this frock out to tea.

If only a costume does impressive things at shoulder and ankle, it need do little else between, as the model at the right illustrates very charmingly. To begin with, tiny balls of fur are suspended in numbers from the edge of a pleated gray crepe de Chine cape which serves as both collar and sleeves to this gray duvetyne frock. And then the burden of responsibility shifts to the bottom of the skirt, where it is amply supported by points of the new goat fur placed several layers deep, one on another, in checkered effect.

Heart Disease Cured With Knife, Forecast

Base Predictions on Result of Operation on 62-Year-Old French Woman.

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—Curing heart disease with the knife may soon be one of the accepted wonders of surgery, according to Boston doctors.

Dr. Wyman Whittemore, of the Massachusetts General Hospital, is one of the prophets of this "good time coming" and bases his optimism on a wonderful operation performed by Dr. Theodore Tuffier in France.

Tuffier, assisted by Prof. Renon, cured a swelling in the main artery of the heart of a woman sixty-two years old with the knife. An x-ray was taken and at the woman's own request the operation was undertaken. A soft growth was found within a finger's breadth of the heart and extended about two inches. It was neutralized. Had it not been it ultimately would have swollen and burst and the patient would have died.

Dr. Whittemore, discussing the operation, which stands alone as a surgical feat, says a binding was placed about the growth so as to lessen passage of blood through the artery and this relieved the woman, who recovered from functional heart trouble. Dr. B. E. Hamilton, heart specialist at the Boston City Hospital, said considerable progress is being made in preventing heart diseases. "The tendency today," he said, "is to work along preventive lines."

GIRL IN BREITUNG CASE FOUND GUILTY BY WOMAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A woman magistrate, Jean H. Norris, yesterday found guilty Mrs. Nellie Kift and one of the two girls arrested in Mrs. Kift's apartment, 640 Madison avenue, in the company of Edward M. Breitung, a banker. The two girls, Edna Clark and Jean Whitney, had been charged as vagrants and Mrs. Kift with keeping a disorderly place.

The arrests were made July 9, so Mr. Breitung gave bail for the prisoners. Jean Whitney and Mrs. Kift will be sentenced Wednesday. The other girl has disappeared.

SISTER OF WHITE HOUSE DOG, "O BOY," IN D. C. COURT

There's a fine young scandal brewing today in White House circles. A police court episode figures in it. "O Lady," a Boston bull terrier, and a full sister to Mrs. Harding's "O Boy," was up in court for running around without a muzzle. "O Lady" belongs to Arthur Ogden, who explained "O Lady's" aristocratic connections to the sympathetic judge. "O Lady" was allowed to go, but still there's talk.

HOT FIRST TIME, BRITONS REALLY TAKE OFF COATS

American Weather Invades England Along With Yankee Ice Cream.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—England's most remarkable summer of half a century is drawing to a close. Two or three such summers and ice cream parlors would blossom on every corner. Englishmen would wear Palm Beach suits, instead of staring at them in wonder; refrigerators would appear in every home, and John Bull would take to drinking ice water like a civilized person, instead of making the obtaining of any drinking water at all a problem that would baffle a Sherlock Holmes.

England Suffers. For England has had a comfortably hot summer. England has suffered. Americans in England have revelled in the sunlight, lived in comfort and chortled at the discomfort of their English friends.

For years an immortal the Englishman has pulled the leg of his American friend for freezing in England's summer time. This year tables have turned. The Yank has twitted John Bull for sweating in what has really been—excepting for a few days—really comfortable warm weather. The newspapers have given John some solace. Hardy travelers who have ventured into America's heat belt in the vicinity of Forty-second and Broadway, wrote back almost daily to the press, giving melting accounts of a much hotter land.

Actually Removed Coats. The heat has had its recompense for the Englishman. He is an outdoor animal, as far as his weather will permit. He has never before had so much perfectly usable outdoors. For months not a drop of rain fell. Never was so much tennis and cricket and golf played. Never was the Thames—from the point of view of amusement the most "used" river in the world—so constantly encumbered with pleasure craft.

The Americanizing of the island continued. Folks who hadn't the slightest idea how ice cream was made, who hardly knew whether it was made from milk or water, bought freezers. Then followed diplomatic advances to the "fishmonger." The fishmonger became a man of importance, to be smiled upon. Folks wanted ice. Whether they had freezers—"ice machines," they call 'em—or not, English people actually were wanting ice. You have to live in England to understand the marvel of it.

There supervened, of course, an ice famine. Something always supervenes in England at the time one wants something the most.

Furthermore, the English, who have no front porches, or back ones, for that matter, began to talk of different kinds of houses—American style, especially designed for the hot months.

Crops Suffer—Sports Thrive.

Englishmen actually took off their coats. Sometimes even in their offices. Nothing short of a miracle, this.

The reverse side of the medal was the crops and the gardens. Crops suffered badly, of course. This meant money and concern to the farmers. But the state of the gardens meant something to everybody. For, when it isn't raining—between showers, as it were—England lives in its back garden, which is properly speaking, its front garden green. In many parts the water pipes yielded to the turn of the tap only during a certain part of the day, while everywhere it was against the rules of the water companies to use a hose.

Herculean efforts were made to keep the gardens green, but it was useless. England is drifting into Indian summer, already taking on the colors of fall. Despite the "grousing" at the heat, England, on the whole, has liked the sample of American summer weather very much. It's helped John Bull's play, and play is an equal partner with work hereabouts or perhaps a majority stockholder.

THROWN ROCK CAUSES INSTANT DEATH TO MAN

DANVILLE, Va., Sept. 14.—Lewis Murray, a seventeen-year-old negro is held in Caswell county jail at Yanceyville, N. C., charged with killing Walter Lee Blackwell, a sixty-year-old farmer at the latter's home.

Blackwell had been to Danville and had instructed the negro to do certain duties. On Blackwell's return he found that his orders had not been carried out.

A passage of words ensued and Murray finally threw a rock at Blackwell. The missile struck him over the heart and caused his instant death.

OIL WORKERS STRIKE FOR RECOGNITION OF UNION

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Sept. 14.—Eight thousand oil workers in the fields of the San Joaquin valley are striking because operators refused to enter into agreements with the union, R. H. Frazer, vice president of the California district council of the Oil Workers' Union, announced.

The strike does not involve the workers of the Standard Oil Company and the Royal Dutch Shell Company. The Standard does not recognize the union, and the Shell Company recently signed a memorandum of terms with the unions.
